Project Wheels Success

Project Wheels was a success! We have a new car for the home and we have all of you to thank. We are all so grateful for the continuing support of our kids, the home and the belief that every child deserves to be loved, supported and get a quality education.

When this grand experiment began nearly 20 years ago there was no place like Hope Now. No place for HIV-positive orphans to go after their parents died of AIDS. It was a time of great grief, challenge and chaos in India when the virus was spreading faster than anyone could manage.

We stepped out in faith and started a home where kids could become a family. We now have many college graduates, marriages and babies.

This June we began another wave of kids entering college. We will continue our journey together as they navigate the next several years of study.

Thank you for your support, this vehicle allows us to continue our work.

We have a new car - thank you!!!!

Partnerships are Important

In the nonprofit world partnerships are vital to achieving goals. We had the great pleasure of working with My Choices Foundation recently. With another group of kids heading off to college they all received phones so we can communicate with them while they are at school. Smart phones can expose kids to problematic content, unwanted solicitations and cyberbullying. My Choices has a team of counselors who educate young adults on these dangers and how to mitigate exposure. It was a great day of learning and sharing. Thank you to the My Choices staff for spending the day at our home.

WE ARE ON A MISSION TO CHANGE LIVES

100% of your donation goes to supporting our kids.

Consider a Monthly Sponsorship

Sustainable giving in the form of a monthly sponsorship provides stability. For just $49 a month, you can sponsor one of our kids and help us meet the needs required to maintain a quality education. This monthly support helps pay for a monthly metro pass, school supplies, tuition and more. Priyanka began her college education at Loyola University to study Communications in mid-June.
